1. Executive Summary

NexaCorp Inc. (NASDAQ: NXCL) is a leading enterprise cloud software and analytics company headquartered in San Francisco, California. Founded in 2010, NexaCorp provides a comprehensive suite of intelligent cloud solutions that help organizations manage, analyze, and monetize their data at scale.

In fiscal year 2024, NexaCorp reported total revenue of $636 million, representing a 25.9% year-over-year growth, and achieved an Adjusted EBITDA margin of 28.3%. The company serves over 3,200 enterprise customers across 18 countries, spanning industries including financial services, healthcare, manufacturing, retail, and government.

NexaCorp's flagship platform, NexaCloud, has become the industry's most adopted enterprise data management solution, processing over 4.2 trillion data events daily across customer deployments. The company's innovative NexaEdge platform, launched in 2023, extends these capabilities to edge computing and IoT environments, addressing one of the fastest-growing segments in enterprise technology.
